
DESPITE the fact that the agricultural acreage in the Santa Clara Valley has dwindled to a small percentage of what it was a relatively short time ago, getting ample farm labor for prune and other fruit picking still presents a problem.

True it is a far cry from the days of some years past when people from this area were often derisively called "prune pickers".

But still there is a need for prune pickers even today, for all the orchards in the area have not yet given way to subdivisions and shopping centers.

We were reminded of this in reading a timely notice this week from the U.S. Department of Labor headed: "Farmers reminded school children under 16 may work outside school hours only."

The ringing of school bells apparently can dry up one source of farm labor in a hurry.

According to notice, a youngster under 16 can only work when classes are not in session.

WE FIND no fault with the principle involved in the child labor provisions which emphasizes that a "youngster's future success depends on the education he obtains today."

We agree also that the law helps the migrant youngster as well as the local child.

But in our mind an interesting question was raised.

Supposing a youngster from another area in which school starts much later than in Campbell is a prune-picker in one of the local orchards.

Does the regulation mean that the youngster has to enroll in school here, only to leave in a few weeks to start classes at his home base?

We know we should have found the answers to these questions before we threw 'em out here.

But we were intrigued by the complications and getting the answers would have spoiled the picture we dreamed up.

In our mind's eye (assuming that the kid didn't have to enroll in school here), we pictured a whole bevy of youngsters lolling around an orchard all day waiting for the school, which they were not attending, to let out, so they could start picking prunes.

We will have to ask Councilman Ralph Doetsch, who still farms within the city limits, just how far that picture is out of focus.

CAMPBELL JAYCEES have undertaken a commendable project in an attempt to have flags appear in front of business establishments on holidays.

For a modest annual fee, the Jaycees have agreed to install the proper fitting in the sidewalk, put the flags up and take 'em down on holidays and store them.

It relieves the occupant of the building of any responsibility and it very definitely improves the appearance of the business section

New St. Lucy's opens

Thousands of parishioners of St. Lucy's Catholic Church in Campbell worshipped for the first time last Sunday in the new $350,000 church edifice that has almost been a year in building.

And the thousands were impressed by the grandeur, yet simplicity of the design of the building, as well as the vastness of the sanctuary which seats 1200 people on one level, double the capacity of the former church.

The accompanying pictures (left to right), an interior view as one Mass was ending, people leaving after the service and a view of the base of the bell tower which is separated from the church building.

SIGN-UP--The long-awaited sign for the Campbell Chamber of Commerce was put in place this week on the Pines Plaza building, 100 W. Rincon. Long-needed to designate the C of C location, the attractive sign is visible from Campbell Ave. across the junior college parking lot. That's Miss Carol Moreno (Miss Campbell) C of C office secretary and Len Edholm, manager, admiring the sign.

Chamber of Commerce plans for active year

Campbell's Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting on Thursday, Sept. 21, which will kick off the fall season of the Campbell Citizens for Progress for the $3,600,000 capital improvement bond issue scheduled to be voted on Oct. 24.

The luncheon meeting on Sept. 21, will be the first after the annual two-month summer "lay-off" of the C. of C. Don Hebard and Norman Paul of the Citizens for Progress group will be in charge of the program.

The directors of the C of C have given their wholehearted endorsement of the bond issue and have authorized financial and other assistance in the campaign. Len Edholm, C of C manager who assumed his duties here on Aug. 14, and Dick Hardy, past president, have also been appointed as members of the advisory board of the Campbell Citizens for Progress in working for the successful passage of the bonds.

Other events scheduled by the C of C for the fall include a concentrated one-day membership drive on Nov. 15, in which teams of members will compete for prizes. Al La Plante, membership chairman, is in charge of the drive.

On Wednesday morning of this week, the Rev. Ben Gould, chairman of the Congress for Community Progress committee, called a meeting of the steering committee, to discuss plans for a possible second "congress" to be held early next year. The first "congress" held in February of this year was rated as one of the most successful events of its kind in this community's history.

In October, under the direction of Neal Royer, chairman of the schools and education committee, tentative plans have been developed for the annual business-education day. A "top name" is expected to be the speaker for this traditional event in which the educators and business people get to-

In war on flies

City frowns on doubling charge for refuse pickup

Two garbage pickups per week resulting in doubling the present monthly charge to the residents, as recommended by the health department to combat the alleged fly menace, met with unanimous disapproval of the City Council Monday night.

Council members indicated that while they recognized that efforts should be made to cooperate in fly control measures, they felt that twice the present cost of the service was too high a price to pay for the inconclusive results that could be attained.

The County Health Department, which also serves Campbell, had recommended that twice-a-week garbage service could result in a greatly reduced fly population provided that the effort was county-wide.

The recommendation was originally submitted to the county supervisors and then referred to the various cities which are served by different scavenger companies.

REPORT

In the report, the health department made the point that if the public wanted fly control, they would have to pay for it and it was estimated that the cost would double for each householder.

Councilman Charles Rose maintained that many fly control measures could be instituted by householders, including tighter covers on the containers and spraying the cans. He suggested that these helpful hints should be made available to the residents by the scavenger companies.

His fellow councilmen agreed and it was suggested that such notices could be incorporated at the time the city and the Green Valley Disposal Co. cooperate in the annual trash pickup day scheduled for Oct. 6.

First time in Campbell

City receives request for public parking lot

For the first time in the history of the city, a public parking facility has been proposed for the downtown area, according to Dick Hogan, planning director.

Up for consideration of the Planning Commission next Monday night, Sept. 18, is the request submitted by R. V. Gant, of Valley Dale Construction Co., for a public parking facility located at Fourth St. and Sanford, just off Campbell Ave. across from West Valley College.

The property with 133-feet on Fourth and 100 feet on Sanford will allow for 34 parking spaces each 9-feet by 20-feet.

According to information submitted to the planning department, the applicant plans to lease spaces to the several stores that face Campbell Ave. and to other merchants. It is also possible that some spaces will be available for college personnel.

The present zoning (commercial) of the property permits a parking lot, provided basic requirements of landscaping, street dedication (five feet on both Sanford and Fourth) and fencing are met.

The Planning Commission next Monday will also be asked to approve the plans for seven four-unit apartment buildings to be located on Hollis, Echo and Adler avenues. The plans have been submitted by Ray Kanawyer.

Up for approval also are plans for an industrial building to be located at 861 McGlincey Lane. The proposed plans, submitted by R. L. Dodge, call for a structure with 300-sq. ft. for office space, 1500 sq. ft. for ware-

FILLING IT UP--For the first time since the parking lot between Rincon Ave. and Campbell Ave. was acquired by West Valley College, parking spaces in the lot this week were hard to come by as the above photo indicates.

Although the residential streets near the college still were jammed with cars of students, the putting of the Rincon parking facility to its full use for the first time "made points" with both city and college officials. And maybe the residents, too.

Editorial

It is a MUST

The Campbell Press is convinced that passage of the proposed $3,600,000 capital improvement bond issue for the City of Campbell that will be up before the voters on Oct. 24 is a "must".

If this community is to take its rightful place among the progressive cities of the county, passage of the bond issue is a necessity.

If the citizens of this community are ever to enjoy the advantages of civic improvements long dormant because of lack of finances, the passing of the bond issue is a "must".

Funds from the issue will allow improvements for parks and recreation, new library facilities, street improvements and a much-needed police and city administration facility.

These are "musts", in our way of thinking, in the making of a better community in which to live and work.

The comparatively small amount of extra taxes that we all must pay to get these improvements will be more than offset by the advantages that every resident will receive from them.

We maintain that the bond issue is a long step forward in the way of progress. This community has waited long enough, in our opinion, to take this step.

We commend the dedicated grass roots group, "Campbell Citizens for Progress", who so sincerely are striving for a better community by urging the passage of the bond issue.

They recognize that it is a "must" and we heartily agree.

That tax bill

Taxes are something that we all get concerned about. As a matter of fact, there is that age-old saw that nothing is sure but "death and taxes" and most of us are resigned to that.

We thought the following explanation of the local tax situtation was worthy of publishing. We think you will agree.

by Robert C. Stephens, City Manager

Every year each property owner asks himself this question: "Will my property tax bill go up?"

And he has found out by experience that the answer is usually "Yes"--his tax bill does go up.

In order to predict what will happen to your tax bill, you must understand the two factors which directly affect how much property tax you pay.

1. If your assessed value changes, your tax bill will change in the same percentage.
2. If the total tax rate within the City or County changes, your tax bill will change in the same percentage rate

Assessed Value

The County, through its Assessor's Office, establishes the assessed value for all property in the City of Campbell.

The County Assessor, in this fiscal year of 1967-68 which begins July 1, 1967 and ends June 30, 1968, has established a total assessed value for all property in the City of Campbell at $41.649,000.

This represents an increase of $1,901,240 over last year's assessed valuation. Of the $1,901,240 increase, approximately $1,000,000 results from new construction.

The remaining $901,240 results from reassessment of land, improvements and personal property and from areas annexed to the City during the preceding year. The Assessor's announced assessment ratio is 25% of the market value of your property.

Tax Rate

The total current tax rate within the City consists of the following tax units:

City of Campbell	1.270
County of Santa Clara	2.343
3 Different School Districts	5.820
5 Other Taxing Agencies	.206
Total tax rate for each $100 of assessed valuation	9.639

This total tax rate was .068 higher than the previous year.

The City Council of the City of Campbell for the seventh straight year has maintained the total tax rate of $1.27 per $100 assessed valuation for operation and bond indebtedness. Good fiscal management is the foundation of good government.

as well as providing a patriotic gesture that we think is important.

Unfortunately the response to the Jaycees project has not been overwhelming. The results are pretty spotty.

You might say that Campbell Ave. on holidays would not be considered "flag-draped". But the Jaycees should get an "E" for effort anyway.

And, incidentally, fellows, if you are missing a flag, we have it.

Shirley Hess, our circulation manager, was the last one to leave the office on Labor Day and she had not been informed of the service you Jaycees offered.

She thought she was doing her patriotic duty. She took the flag down and put it inside the office before you guys came around to do it.

IT IS SURPRISING how many times people make errors in dialing a phone number by poking their fingers in the wrong slot.

We know.

Our home phone number is the same as that of the Winchester Drive-in Theater, except for one digit.

It is a little exasperating to come racing in from the outside to be greeted by "What time does the first show start?" or "What is playing tonight?"

However, keeping our short fuse in check at a time like that is a good exercise in self-control.

Such training helps especially when chit-chatting, to use the term loosely, over Ma Bell's machine with "irate reader".

And we get those calls, too.

Or did you know?

INCIDENTALLY poking the wrong number in dialing could be quite expensive in this day of easy long-distance dialing.

Our friends the George Hills in Orinda, for example, have received countless calls that have been meant for Anderston Motors in San Jose. The only difference in the two telephone numbers is one digit in the prefix.

Instead of "what's the show" query that we get on our phone, the Hills are asked "when can I bring my car in for service."

Based on first hand observation, the conclusion is that you had better be sure to dial the prefix right at least.

Or your phone bill is going to suffer.

BECAUSE OF our remarks on phones, chances are this column will be clipped and filed by the very efficient Pacific Telephone public relations department.

We accidentally learned that Pacific Tele follows that procedure the last time we mentioned the phone company in this column.

Through a mistake in routing, we received in the mail the said column neatly clipped and pasted on an inter-office memo.

Our office sent it back after receiving a call from the embarrassed party who apparently had stuck it in the wrong out-basket.

That's sort of like dialing the wrong prefix.

But not as expensive.

Quattuor Investments which recently was granted approval of special permit for a billiard parlor on Hacienda near Winchester, have resubmitted plans to the Planning Commission for a restaurant and bar at the location.

The commissioners next Monday night are also scheduled to act on the appeal of Leo Rotondo from the planning director's denial of signs for the Hudson service station at Winchester Blvd. and Rosemary Lane.

Local building tops last year

Valuation of the building permits issued in Campbell for the first eight months this year top the same period last year by more than $100,000, according to Wally Byron, city building official. ($3.2 million compared to $3.1 million.)

Single family dwellings are almost double that of last year, Byron noted. Last year at the end of eight months single family construction accounted for $663,026 of the total while this year the figure has jumped to $1,298,969 in this category for 71 new homes since Jan. 1.

The largest permit listed for the month of August was for $200,000 for the newly-completed Paseo de Palomas Trailer Park, off of Union Ave. adjacent to the drive-in theater.

Seven single family dwelling unit permits were issued in August for $117,520 while four permits for multiples and duplexes came to $135,066.

Two commercial building permits totalled $46,980 and one industrial for $3,840.

Five swimming pools accounted for $15,500. Total permits for the month came to $536,556 compared to $440,126 for the same month last year.

OTHER ACTIONS

In other actions, the council recommended to the supervisors that Miss Jean Gomes be appointed to the vacancy that exists on the County Library Commission. The council had previously recommended Miss Gomes, a teacher and a native of Campbell, but had been turned down.

In the covering letter City Manager Bob Stephens was directed to emphasize that for the past eight years Campbell has not had a representative on the library commission while other communities have had as many as three.

Three ordinances were adopted by the council, two involved the proposed annexation on Crockett Ave. and the other clarified provisions in the billiard parlor control measure.

First reading was given an ordinance drafted by City Attorney Joe Bonacina "to put teeth" in the abatement procedure affecting unsafe buildings.

City Attorney Bonacina was also given council permission to attend the 32nd annual conference of the National Institute of Municipal Law Officers in Detroit, Oct. 8-11. Bonacina has been selected as a speaker at the workshop concerning the non-statutory advisory agencies effect on local government.

The council also set Oct. 9 as the hearing date for the routine abandonment of a portion of Sunnyoaks Ave. not now being used.

IN COURT

City Attorney Bonacina also reported that the city had received judgment in the superior court against Henry Grattan in the case involving the removal of a substandard building.

Bonacina also reported that after several postponements the trial date in the condemnation proceedings against Mrs. Kathie Graber has been set for Oct. 9. The property involved is part of the long-delayed L.I.D. #11 for the improvement of property that fronts on Campbell Ave. and opens onto Union.

In another action, the council authorized the cancellation of the PG&E bonds that have been in effect since the city was incorporated in 1952.

In a letter to the council indicating that there was no legal objection to the cancellation, Bonacina reported, "I can see no great danger to the City if this bond requirement is not enforced"...He added orally that indications were that it was a going concern.

Fire on McBain

Fire destroyed a garage and partially damaged the roof of the attached seven-room home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clough, 1338 McBain Ave., Sunday night. Two vehicles in the garage were destroyed.

The fire started in the garage shortly before 8 p.m. Mrs. Clough told County Firemen she smelled smoke and asked her husband to investigate. Clough opened the door to the laundry room leading to the garage and discovered the flames.

Four County units responded to the fire which was brought under control in minutes. Chief Ralph Coccamo said there was heavy smoke damage to the house. Cause of the blaze is under investigation.

Seventeen boys were able to enjoy a week at summer camp, thanks to the Campbell Optimist Club.

All labor for the construction, maintenance and administration of the project is donated. The annual fireworks sale sponsored by the local club made it possible for the boys to enjoy the week at the camp, which including swimming, and other sports.

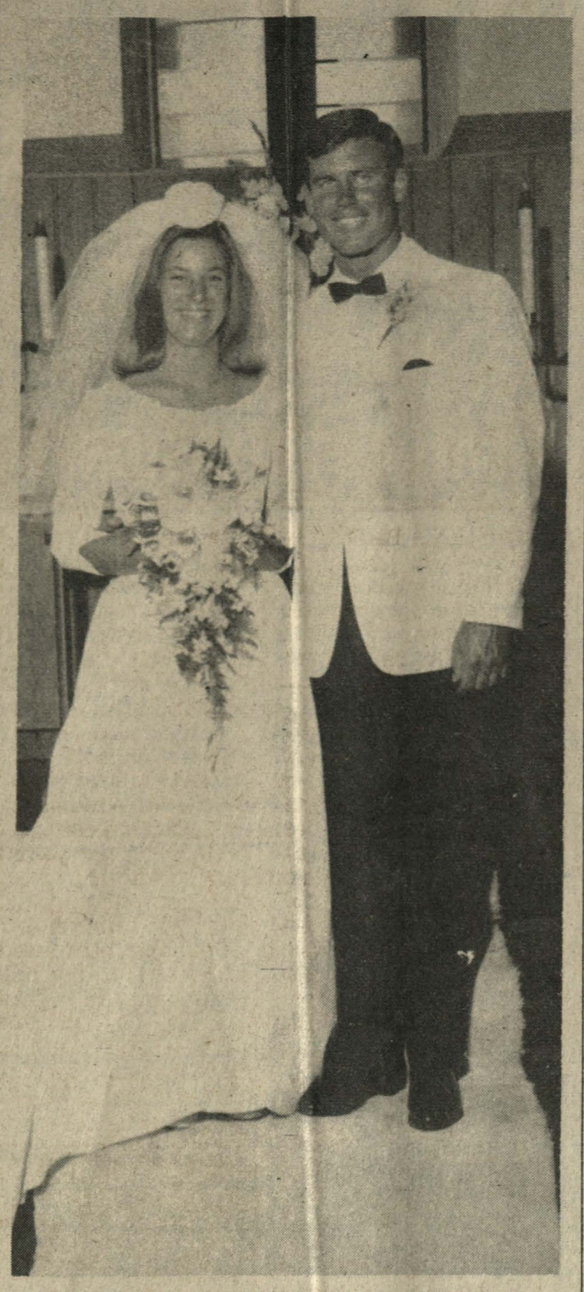
Jean Gould and Bill Campbell pledge vows



MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM CAMPBELL

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. William H. Campbell are now at home in San Jose following a honeymoon in Hawaii. The bride is the former Jean Gould, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. William H. Gould of this city. Rev. Gould is minister of the First Methodist Church of Campbell, where the ceremony was held.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, who then officiated at the nuptials. Jean was lovely in a gown of imported silk organza underscored with brocaded taffeta. Appliques of lace outlined the portrait neckline and the skirt fell into a graceful chapel sweep train. Her bouquet was a cascade of white orchids and stephanotis. Her elbow length veil was secured with a Dior rose.

Mrs. Thomas V. Newton of Chico, sister of the bride, served as the Matron of Honor. Her other sister, Miss Becky Gould, was the Maid of Honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Rene Brandol, Mrs. Richard Perry and Miss Val Briggs. They wore identical gowns of hot pink peau de soie and carried bouquets of carnations. Miss Robin Peckham of San Jose was the candlelighter.

Richard Perry stood with the bridegroom as the best man and ushering were Messrs: Mike Airington, John Oldham, Ron Reynolds, Bill Gould, brother of the bride, Bruce Samples, and James Sweeney.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church arranged and served the reception in the Church Fellowship Hall for 350 guests. A beautiful five tiered wedding cake topped with wedding bells was the center of the buffet table. Mrs. Hilda Campbell, grandmother of the bridegroom, poured, and Mrs. Russell Bearrows, sister of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book.

The new Mrs. Campbell is a graduate of San Jose State College with a degree in physical education. A former teacher at Wilcox High School in Santa Clara, she will be teaching physical education at the new Branham High School this fall.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Campbell, 323 S. California St., is a teacher at Westmont High School where he is a track and Frosh-Soph football coach. He is a graduate of Campbell High School and San Jose State College.

The young couple are now at home to friends at 1195 Brace Ave., San Jose.

Is there really such a thing as "educational fun"? Thirty-four Girl Scouts think so and that many can't be wrong!

During the week of Aug. 24-31, these thirty-four girls camped out at Big Sur State Park under the guidance of seven leaders and needless to say, they had a ball!

The girls cooked their breakfasts and lunches by patrols. The evening meal for the entire group was cooked by one patrol with the help of the mothers.

The Cadets who accompanied the troops did a wonderful job as program aids and proved to be of great value to the leaders. They not only had a wonderful week of camping but won a spot in the hearts of all the girls and adults involved.

Young musicians urged to enter UNICEF concert

Auditions for the Sixth Annual UNICEF Concert will be held on January 28, 1968. Although this is several months away, interested students will want to start now to prepare their pieces. Auditions are open to pianists and instrumentalists who will not be over 18 years old on March 10, 1968 and vocalists who will not be over 21.

Pieces performed should be authentic compositions from the classical literature and should be not longer than five minutes.

Of special interest this year is a new concerto category. If a concerto winner is chosen, he will perform with the Amici della Musica Chamber Orchestra in a concert during the 1968-1969 season.

Students interested in either the recital or concerto categories may contact Mrs. Richard Williams, 266-2721, or Mrs. William Michael, 269-1376, for more information and audition applications.

MILT and SALLY HOWE went to Roseburg, Oregon to collect their two youngsters and Milt's mother, MRS. EOLA HOWE of Winchester Blvd., who has been visiting the CHARLIE HOWES', former Coventry Drive residents. Along the way, Sally says she made a Champion out of Red their famous runaway Welsh Corgi and got "two legs" towards his Companion Dog Excellent Title... one more leg to go). The Howes' took in five California-Oregon dog shows....

The Campbell Artists' Guild and the Campbell Garden Club, Inc., after a very successful artistic collaboration last year, called "Petals and Palettes," will again join artistic forces in a combined exhibit of art and flower arrangements, called "Transition in Art." The exhibit is open to the public without charge.

The show will be held Friday, Sept. 29, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturday, Sept. 30, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at St. Lawrence Church, 65 Rincon Ave. Campbell.

Mrs. Stanford recalls city's happy past

Copies of the memoirs of Mrs. Gertrude Stanford, long-time resident of Campbell and former operator of the old Campbell Hotel, will be available at the next meeting of the West Valley Historical Society on Sunday, Sept. 17.

Miss Jean Gomes, president, announces the meeting will convene at 3 p.m. in the Campbell Museum, 272 E. Anyone interested in obtaining a copy of the memoirs, in booklet form, should contact Miss Gomes, 378-4145.

Make home in San Jose

MR. AND MRS. RALPH JOSEPH FRANCIS
(Lynne Kathryn Spitzer)

Lynne Kathryn Spitzer changed her name to Mrs. Ralph Joseph Francis at a double ring vow exchange at the First Immanuel Lutheran Church recently. Rev. William H. Schraeder officiated at the nuptials before a gathering of 200 friends and relatives.

Lynne chose a gown of silk organza over white crepe. White lace daisy appliques trimmed the neckline, long sleeves and the edge of the chapel length train. An organza crown held her shoulder length veil and she carried a bouquet of white stephanotis and roses. Her only jewelry was a cameo originally worn by her mother on her own wedding day.

Mrs. Richard Ahlschlager was the honor attendant. Her gown of sunshine yellow peau de soie was accented with a bouquet of yellow daisies and moss green streamers.

Bridesmaids Mesdames Dennis Lawrence, Michael Spitzer, James Fox, Donald Genasci and Miss Tiia Tammar wore matching yellow gowns, similar to the Matron of Honor, and carried bouquets of white daisies. Little Denise Lawrence was the flower girl. Her floor length yellow frock matched the other bridal attendants and she carried a basket of white daisies.

Richard Cristina was the best man and ushers were Dennis Lawrence, Michael Spitzer, Richard Morella, Robert Snyder and Vincent Shannon.

A champagne reception followed the wedding at the San Jose Woman's Club. The couple left soon after for a wedding trip to Southern California and are now making their home in San Jose.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Spitzer of 864 Almarida Dr., Campbell. She is a graduate of Campbell High School and attended San Jose State College. Her brothers are Michael and Jeffrey Spitzer of Campbell. Lynne is employed at the First National Bank of San Jose.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Francis of San Jose. A graduate of Bellarmine College Preparatory, he is a senior business major at San Jose State College and will graduate in February.

The Campbell Moose Lodge meets on Monday nights at The American Legion Hall, 1611 Dell Ave. in Campbell. Anyone wishing information about the Lodge can contact Ken Tougas, Civic Affairs Representative at 378-0371.

College board approves third building for Saratoga campus

Third permanent building to be erected on the Saratoga campus of West Valley College will be the Language Arts-Social Science Building, the Board of Trustees recommended last Thursday night.

The Board acted after Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president, reported he had been notified by Dr. Archie L. McPherran, Acting Chief, Division of Higher Education, State Department of Education, that the college has a total future state entitlement of $1,199,414 under the Junior College Construction Act of 1965.

This amount must be matched by at least $865,066 in district funds, Dr. Hall said, and application for utilization of the state entitlement must be submitted by Oct. 1 to the State Department of Education.

The administrative staff has spent considerable time in determining which buildings would follow the Engineering-Technology Building, currently under construction, and the Science-Mathematics Building, construction of which is scheduled to begin next year.

The staff recommended the Language Arts-Social Science Building because the total estimated costs fall well within the funds to be available, and that within such a building a very substantial number of classrooms could be constructed in relation to the total square-footage involved.

(In this latter regard, Dr. Hall pointed out that by increasing the number of permanent classrooms on the Saratoga campus, the need for construction of additional relocatable classrooms could be reduced--if not eliminated.)

The Board authorized Dr. Hall to proceed with the preparation of the application for utilization of the State entitlement for the Language Arts-Social Science Building.

Other items on the agenda related to the Saratoga campus were:

The Board approved final working drawings for four relocatable buildings to be used as a combined shower-locker and equipment rooms, and toilet facilities, including paths and lighting. The plans were to be submitted to the Bureau of School Planning, State Department of Education, for review and approval, as well as to the State Office of Construction and Architecture, and upon their return Dr. Hall was authorized to call for bids for the construction of the buildings.

The Board also approved final working drawings for five relocatable buildings to be constructed as a unit for the Food Services and Restaurant Management Program, to include training facilities for the program, a dining area and outdoor patio area. Estimated cost of the structures is $170,000 and completion is expected by May 1, 1968, Dr. Hall said.

Dr. Hall also reported that 6,513 students had been programmed for the new semester, of which 3,599 were day students and 3,405 were extended day students.

These figures show an increase of five per cent in day students over the same date last year, and a 20 per cent increase in extended day students over the same date last year, for an overall increase of 11.3 per cent in total enrollment.

This is in line with a trend that shows a closing gap between numbers of day and evening students, Dr. Hall said, partially because the district is offering more night classes at such places as Buchser High School in Santa Clara, and Dartmouth School in the Union School District; and because more adults are becoming aware of offerings of the college and are taking advantage of these offerings.

CHP cautions about school children

Motorists were warned this week to be alert for small children on their way to and from school.

California Highway Patrol Captain R. P. Bliss of San Jose Area pointed out that most drivers have undoubtedly developed what he called "summer driving habits" that don't take these youngsters into special account.

"Most of them are either afoot or on bicycles," the local Captain said, "and, unfortunately, many can be counted upon to act unpredictably. This means the motorist using the road must be prepared for these actions during the hours when they are on their way to and from school."

At the same time, the local Captain pointed out that many of the older high school students returning to school will also be motorists.

"They will be headed to and from school at the same time," said the Captain, "and I would especially urge them to drive carefully and watch out for the unpredictable roadside happenings among the small school children."

Campbell rated best in West Valley League

Competition between the nine high schools in the West Valley League begins Friday, Sept. 22. Most of those "in the know" rate Campbell as the team to beat this year, because of the prowess of that up and coming half-back, Chuck Hawthorne.

Coach Mike Jones reports the return of quarterback Gary Tomasso, and a corps of receivers led by Stan Hedegard, Soren Hansen and John Lobrovich. Tackles will be Ron Snyder, Andy Jackson and Darrell Ball.

Leigh, the winner of last year's championship, lost most of its stars through graduation. Gary Ables, the new head coach, hopes senior Terry Semon may be the answer to replace last year's standout, Jim Chasey.

Blackford has a corps of returning starters including Tim Flood, quarterback, Larry Dunham, half-back, Jim Whiteside, Jeff Momsen and John Bloomfield.

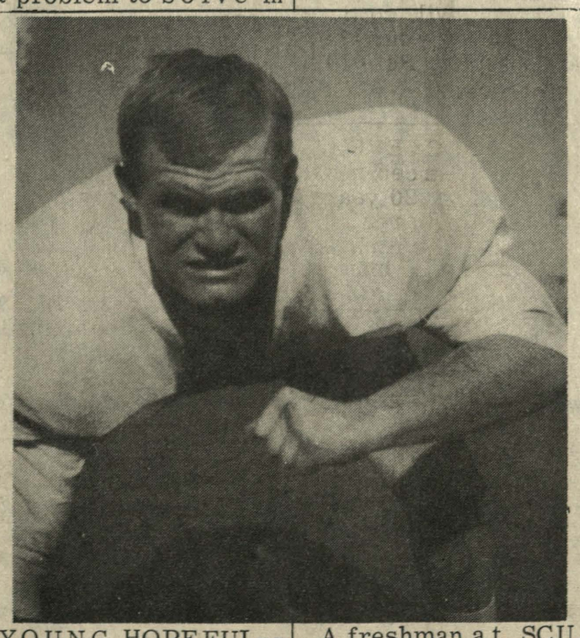
Westmont's new coach, Dick Petty, has a problem to solve in finding a quarter-back. He has several fine prospects in Ross Garrison and 210-pound Rich Knoche.

Del Mar has five returning starters but must find talent in the line and defensive secondary. They have a strong passing team and Don Transeth and Mahlon Conley can definitely be relied upon.

Saratoga, always a tough team, lost a number of their top stars through graduation. Coach Benny Pierce has a great quarterback in John Zuercher and end Bill Dimeff.

Camden still has that fine halfback Rick Aguilar, and Rusty Thompson will be the quarterback throwing to Ron Curnett and Paul Worsham.

Los Gatos boasts mostly sophomores and juniors, with one returning starter in end Bill Erb. Branham's possibilities are unknown at this point, being the newest school in the Campbell High School District. Their coach Charles Maraldo says he expects his team to be "very green."



YOUNG HOPEFUL--Michael John Clark, of 129 Christopher, Campbell, who starred in both football and wrestling at Campbell High, is trying out for the Santa Clara University grid team as middle guard or center. A freshman at SCU, Clark was "A" and "B" student at Campbell High. His hobby is weight lifting. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark, his brother, Tom, is an officer with the Campbell Police Department.

Letters to the Editor

COMMENDATION

Ed. NOTE: The following letter was received by City Manager Bob Stephens from Neal Royer, elementary district school superintendent, and in turn it was transmitted to the City Council.

Because it typifies the excellent relationship that exists between the school district and city administration, we feel it is worthy of publication.

Mr. Robert Stephens
City Manager
City of Campbell
Dear Bob:

During the month of August we were conducting workshops with our Administrative Staff members in preparation for our forthcoming school year.

Campbell Police Chief, Fire Chief, and other City of Campbell staff members made most worthwhile contributions to our plans for a safe and productive school year.

We were pleased with the many services given by your staff members in the area of fire safety, street safety, and preventive measures. It is unfortunate that the average citizen cannot observe and measure the results of the many intangible services provided by your staff.

The cooperation we received during the past month is typical of the assistance we receive throughout the year.

It is hereby requested that this letter be made a matter of record with our City Council, and ample copies are enclosed for such distribution.

We appreciate the work of the Campbell City Council and the entire staff more than you may realize.

Sincerely,
Neal Royer
District Superintendent

County tax rate goes to $2.13

A tax rate hike of 6.8 cents has been approved by the County Board of Supervisors as they set the tax rate for 1967-68.

The smaller-than-expected-increase, the Board had expected a 10 to 11 cent hike, resulted from larger than expected fund balances and additional revenue resulting from state legislative actions.

County Finance Director Edward N. Glaeser said the tax rate necessary to balance the 1967-68 budget was $2.133 set for $100 assessed valuation.

The old rate was $2.065.

The 1967-68 budget totaled $125,485,582 as compared with the previous year $115,370,511.

Glaeser reported that the fund balanced to $6,826,538, slightly higher than had been calculated during budget hearings.

County sets $10 expressway fee

A $10 license fee surcharge will be imposed upon the majority of vehicles registered in Santa Clara County for 1968, the County Board of Supervisors has decided.

By a 4-1 vote, the supervisors recently set a surcharge formula three times the in-lieu tax collected by the state on all vehicles up to the $10 maximum.

Chairman Sam Della Maggiore set the dissenting vote, arguing that a multiplier of two should have been used as being "the most equitable" for people with lower-valued vehicles.

Vandals flirt with death on power lines

Juveniles who damaged high voltage lines causing three power failures in Santa Clara County during the past month are flirting with arrest and gambling with death, Ellis Langley, Jr., manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Company's San Jose Division warned recently.

Langley pointed out that anyone who willfully interferes with electrical transmissions is subject to a fine of $500 and a five-year prison term.

But, he added, anyone who tampers with a high voltage line also risks death or serious injury.

His warning was prompted by three acts of vandalism that caused power failures in San Jose, Gilroy and Morgan Hill and could easily have electrocuted those responsible.

On August 12 a juvenile on a freeway overcrossing in San Jose threw a wire over a 12,000 volt line, causing it to ignite and deprive 1,600 customers of power for 25 minutes.

The second act of vandalism occurred on August 25 when juveniles threw a rope over two conductors on a line at Gilroy, pulled them together and started a fire which interrupted service to 100 customers for more than 40 minutes.

More than 100 customers in Morgan Hill were without power for 87 minutes on August 29 when juveniles threw a chain across a 4,000 volt line.

"Such interruption of service to our customers is serious enough in itself, but those who deliberately cause the damage are most certainly risking death," Langley said.

College prexy greets faculty of 134 members

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, West Valley College president, welcomed a record number of 134 faculty members and administrators at a day-long orientation program beginning with a breakfast meeting Friday, September 8, at the college.

On hand for the session were some 26 new faculty members, some of them replacements, top members of the administrative staff and members of the governing board.

Dr. Hall reported a total student enrollment for the new year of some 6,500 day and extended day students, emphasizing once again the "Open Door Policy" of the college and its concern for the "human aspects--to consider the needs of students as paramount to any other consideration."

Dr. Hall also pointed to changes made on the Campbell campus, including completion to relocatable buildings, and following his remarks, a tour of the new facilities was led by Gene Arnold, dean of campus facilities.

Prior to Dr. Hall's remarks the faculty were welcomed by Jack T. Armstrong, vice chairman of the Governing Board of the District, and Jerry R. Crandall, president of the West Valley College Faculty Association. The meeting was presided over by Dr. Gordon D. Aumack, dean of instruction at the college.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

We no longer have a pure free enterprise economic system. In fact, government is now the most decisive influence on the business cycle.

Some economists and political scientists approve this development; others condemn it. But all agree that government domination of economics has one serious fault. Because government, politics, and human nature are so intertwined, far reaching decisions regarding the economy are too frequently made on a political basis with eyes fixed on public opinion surveys.

For example, public works programs are usually accelerated at the bottom of a recession and their effect is not felt until the crisis is over. Such spending should occur at the beginning of an economic downturn and not at its low ebb.

Since 1960, U.S. population has grown by only 10%, but there are 25% more government employees, and payrolls are up by 75%. NON-DEFENSE FEDERAL EXPENDITURES ARE UP 97%. In ten years, the federal budget has increased by approximately 90%, or $67 billion. Of this amount $25 billion was for Vietnam and $42 billion for increased domestic spending. Nevertheless, President Johnson, in response to public opinion, implies that his only reason for requesting a 10% tax increase is the buildup in Vietnam.

In 1965 dozens of House Members predicted the Vietnam War cost would be $10 billion higher than the Administration predicted. But this was outrightly denied because of possible adverse public opinion. Had the full truth been told, the public would have immediately demanded economy and perhaps forestalled the present need for a tax increase.

When President Johnson's budget was first submitted this year, every knowledgeable person knew the deficit would approach $30 billion without drastic domestic economies. If the truth had been admitted then, instead of when public opinion surveys dictated, the public again would have demanded economy and possibly forestalled a tax increase.

The 7% investment credit is another example of timing decisions in accordance with public opinion instead of what is good for the economy. Fearing inflation in the latter part of 1966, the Administration made political capital out of repealing the 7% credit against the unanimous advice of the Minority in Congress. Just a few months later in early 1967, the Administration urged the immediate restoration of the 7% credit and justified it with every argument in the Minority report of a few months earlier.

Now that the tax increase has been proposed, the President still refuses to face up to the problem of deficits. In the public opinion wake which followed Newark and Detroit, Administration lobbyists are swarming over Capitol Hill asking that cuts in programs like Demonstration Cities, rent supplements, poverty, foreign aid, Social Security, and beautification be restored. But until there is some indication of a new policy which bases decisions on sound economics instead of politics and public opinion surveys, their reception will be cool.

Institute at college to aid publicity chairmen of clubs

A Public Relations Institute, whose prime purpose will be to aid publicity chairmen of local clubs and community action groups to get their stories across to the public, will be offered by the Office of Community Services at West Valley College.

Designed specifically for "lay" publicists--with little or no experience in dealing with newspapers, broadcasters and other mass media groups--the institute will meet on six Wednesday evenings starting October 4. Lecture-laboratory sessions, discussion, and "how-to" demonstrations will be utilized.

What newspapers, radio and television stations and other mass media want in the way of news stories, how and when they want them planned, written and presented will be covered, as well as procedure for organizing a publicity campaign. Coordinator of the institute will be Dr. Lewis Thomas, instructor in Journalism and English at West Valley College, and a veteran of twenty-five years experience in newspaper, television and public relations work.

The institute will carry no college credit, however a Certificate of Completion will be issued to participants. A $2 registration fee, to cover the cost of instructional materials, will be charged. The sessions are open to district residents.

Dr. Thomas emphasized that the institute will be oriented to so-called "amateur" groups--publicity chairmen of church, PTA, local charity and other club groups with highly-deserving activities but who have not had access to professional public relations counsel.

Interested persons are invited to call the Community Services Office, 379-1733, for further information.

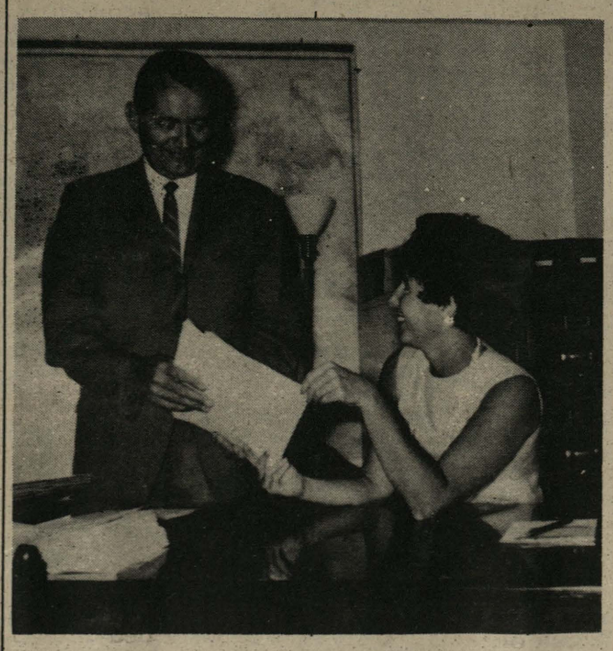
FIGHT CANCER with a CHECK-UP

Q. - Does heavy drinking of alcoholic beverages increase the risk of cancer?
A. - Statistical studies show a greater incidence of mouth and throat cancer in heavy drinkers of alcoholic beverages who also smoke.
Q. - Can cancer of soft tissue be caused by a bruise or injury?
A. - A single or an occasional injury to soft tissue, such as breast, has not been known to cause cancer.
Q. - Can eating any single food or combination of foods cause cancer?
A. - No. But a marked lack of some food elements (as in protein or certain vitamin deficiencies) may be related to certain types of cancer.
Q. - Is cancer hereditary in human beings?
A. - No, but there may be inherited susceptibility toward certain types of cancer. Present knowledge on this point does not justify fear or a hopeless attitude. However, a record of cancer in one or both parents makes it especially important for their children to have annual health checkups and be alert to any danger signal that may mean cancer.
Q. - Can repeated overexposure to the sun cause skin cancer?
A. - Yes. Cancer of the skin occurs often in fair-skinned persons who have been repeatedly exposed to the sun's rays over long periods of time. Dark-skinned people and those who tan rapidly and easily are less susceptible to the harmful effect of too much sun exposure.
Q. - Can hemorrhoids turn cancerous?
A. - No. But hemorrhoids (piles) may bleed and occur in the presence of a bowel cancer. This may obscure the significance of the Danger Signal: rectal bleeding. Such bleeding, therefore, should always be brought to the attention of a physician.
Q. - Can one's attitude toward cancer influence the course of the disease?
A. - Yes, in the sense that if one is unwilling to seek early medical attention or to accept proper medical treatment for cancer, the effects can be fatal.
Q. - Does cancer usually develop in persons with poor general health?
A. - General health seems to have no relationship to the onset of cancer. This means that even people with no signs of ill health should get regular periodic medical checkups.



CO-CHAIRMAN--John Larsen, district manager of Pacific Telephone and Mrs. Auralee Street, a PT&T supervisor, as co-chairman of the "Parade of Republican Personalities", discuss plans for the big event that will take place on Sept. 27 at the "Little New Yorker Restaurant" in Santa Clara.
Sponsored by the Republican Central Committee, Senator John Tower of Texas will be the principal speaker. Tickets can be obtained from Republican headquarters, 522 N. Monroe St., San Jose, phone 246-6600.

Co-operative Prune Dryer history coming to an end

BY Sally Howe

Each year, come August, Mr. Campbellite used to get up early some morning, stretch and take a big sniff of the fresh air. "Mrs. Campbellite," he'd say knowingly, "it's prune time."

The scent is scarcely noticed anymore. The prune, once synonymous with Campbell, is changing it's headquarters to other valleys. And with the loss of the prune, Campbell will suffer another loss, its Cooperative Dryer.

Deadended on Central Ave. near the heart of the city's business district, the Dryer looks dormant most of the time, with neatly kept fences, swept yards and rows and rows of boxes, but deserted and quiet--until about the first of August and then--if you are discerning or if you use the Dryer yard as a shortcut between First Street and Central, you begin to notice the boxes have been moved, or more have come in, or there's a couple of trucks parked by the office.

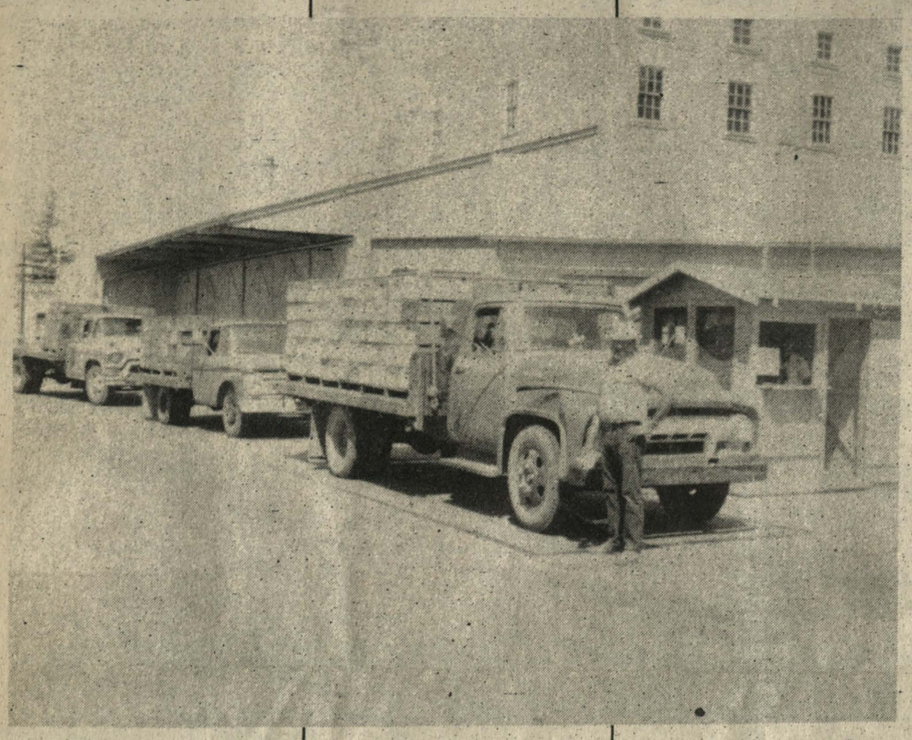
Local prune ranchers formed the Cooperative in 1937. For why should each of them have their own small dryer expense, when one big one could serve them all? Few of those ranchers remain and those that do, have small orchards, like Billy Jones, the Los Gatos railroader, who still trucks his fruit to the dryer each season. There are some new ranches using the dryer, driving in from San Joaquin Valley, but only until production in their own areas of Merced and Los Banos, are up sufficiently to warrant the building of similar co-ops in those areas.

Disconcerting as the loss of the prune industry is, the disappearance of the picturesque farmhouse, the ranch dog, the front yard palm tree and the battered flat bed truck which carted the precious fruit to the dryer are even more so. A truck came down Campbell Avenue every hour, at least. Poppa drove and if you were the eldest, you sat on a box next to him. If you were younger, or just a cousin, you stood next to the boxes and guarded them so that none of the purple fruit would decide to dash itself against the pavement and ruin the day's small profits.

Everyone knows that dusty old orchards are being replaced with shiny new houses, but just how extensively this is true, doesn't hit home until you try to actually locate an orchard large enough to warrant the hiring of prune pickers. Try Pollard Road, there's Phil LaBue, who is also a Campbell Press carrier. "How's the job, Phil," you ask. He explains that he's had quite a time getting work, hard as it is. ("Boy, did you ever try to pick prunes on a hill? Either you or the fruit is sliding down the slope all the time!") Phil isn't typical. Most young people have never given a thought to working in the fruit--the jobs just aren't that plentiful. (It used to be that all the young people in the valley made their school expense money picking prunes, hence the half-affectionate, half-derogatory self-appellation "Prune-Picker".)

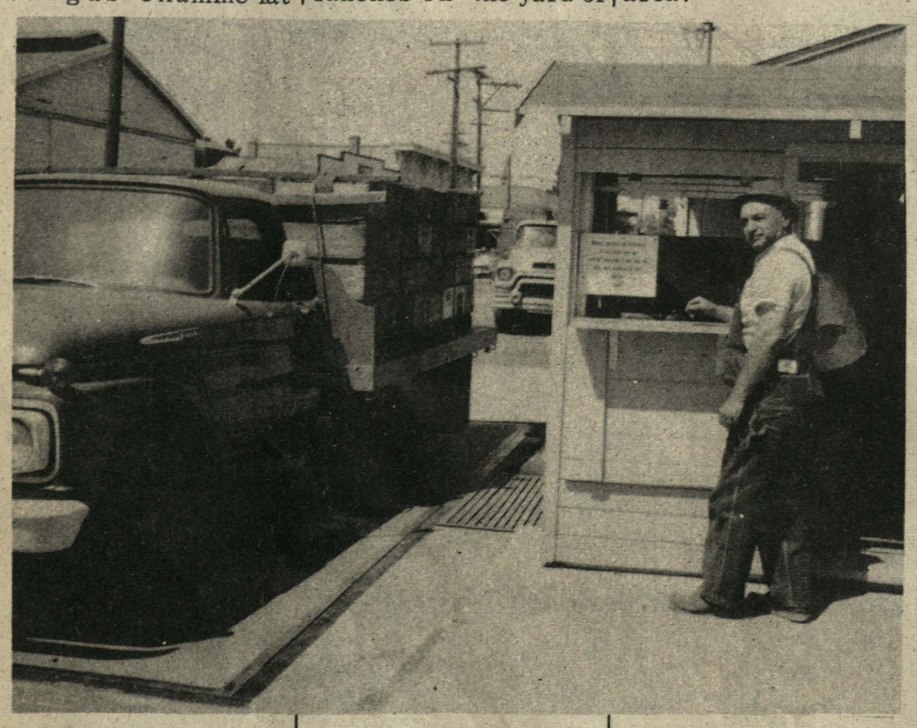
The Dryer will undoubtedly be replaced by shiny new businesses. The ranch house is gone; the kids are grown, the dog died, and the rancher retired Only one link may still remain in the industry which did so much for this area...that little flat bed truck, held together with bailing wire and love, on which every local teenager had his first driving lesson--(at 9 miles per hour through the orchard)--what has happened to the truck? Let's hope it's content with its memories--looks like that's all most of us have left.

THE PRUNE PICKERS-PHIL LO BUE, 1495 Theresa, has been hard put to find jobs in the prune industry this year, especially since the crop is late this year. As the prune industry declines, Phil may find no work in years to come.



THE LINE-UP--Truck loads of prunes wait their turn to be weighed in at the Campbell Dryer. The Dryer, started in 1937, may not be a Campbell landmark for too many more years, as the prune industry in the valley declines.

FINE FRUIT--Employee Bill Ivancovich and fruit drivers Peter Taormina and Tony Vargus examine fat prunes from the Joseph Gomes and Ainsley Corporation local ranches in the yard of the Campbell Cooperative Dryer--a vanishing landmark in the area.



WEIGHING IN--Peter Taormina brings in a load of prunes from the Ainsley Corporation ranch at Hamilton and Bascom and has it checked on the scales of the Campbell Cooperative Dryer before taking it to be unloaded in the dryer yard.

Gubser seeks stamp to honor police officers

Former Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has endorsed Congreeman Charles S. Gubser's (R-Calif.) proposal for the issuance of a "Law and Order" commemorative stamp which would pay tribute to our Nation's law-enforcement officers.

In a letter to Gubser, which was also sent to Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien, Summerfield, who headed the Post Office Department during the administration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, said: "I agree heartily with the purpose of your bill. There has been no time in our history when those charged with the enforcement of law and order more deserve recognition for their effective work... They should be given every encouragement for their...hazardous service in the future."

The former Postmaster General said: "The issuance of a commemorative stamp would be a significant gesture and I am sure would be extremely helpful and encouraging to our law-enforcement organizations."

Gubser said he welcomes such distinguished and knowledgeable support as that of Summerfield and vowed to renew his efforts to secure issuance of the "Law and Order" stamp.

"The time has come," Gubser said, "when we must recognize that what occurred in Newark, Detroit, and other cities all over the country will continue to erupt if we do not stand up and forthrightly proclaim our belief in law and order and the men who risk their lives to maintain it for us."

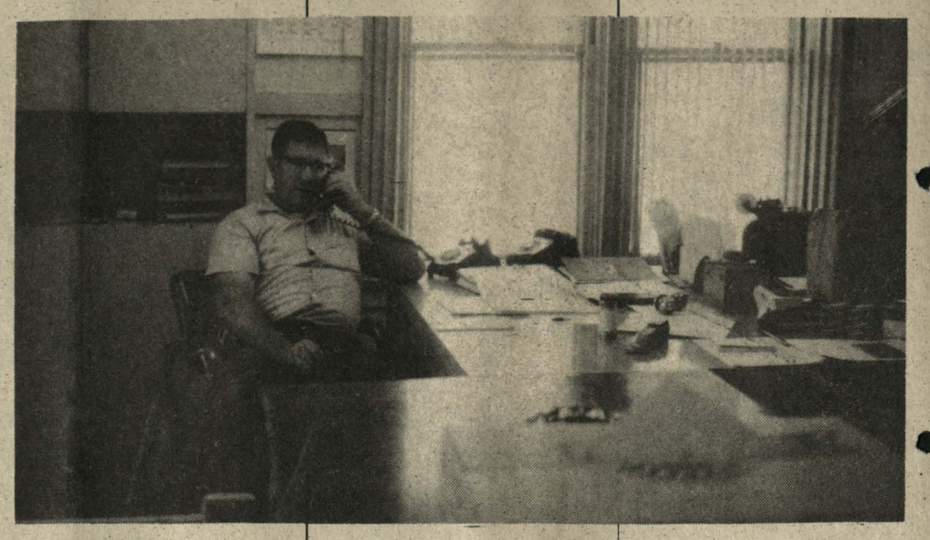
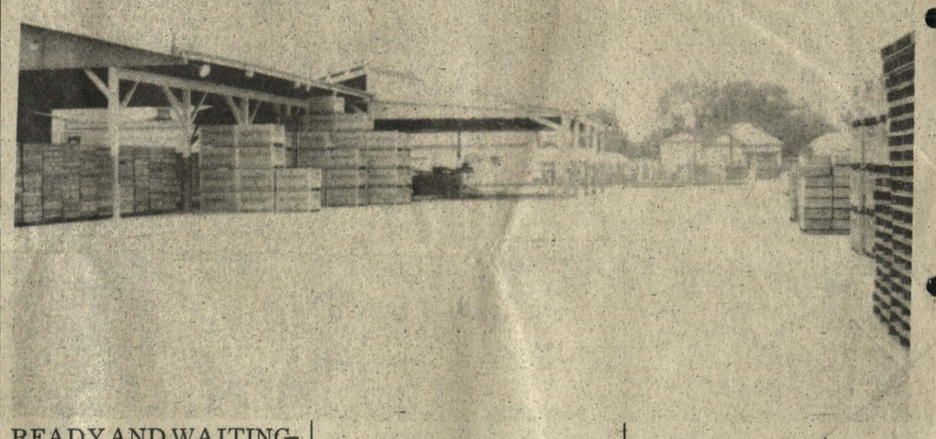
PRUNE-PICKERS OF YESTERDAY--in 1912 horse-drawn carts were used to bring the Campbell area prunes to the Farmers Union Packing Company building located in Campbell, the fore-runner of the co-op dryer now located between First and Central avenues. Prunes are now "trucked" in on flat bed trucks.



A VERY BUSY TIME OF YEAR--Ray Everett Manager of the Campbell Cooperative Dryer (Sunsweet) is hard-pressed to keep up with the flood of prunes which activates the Dryer each August and September.



READY AND WAITING-The Campbell Cooperative Dryer was nearly deserted in June and July as testified to by this early morning shot. With the prune crop late this year, the dryer didn't really "come alive" until late August.
